SHORT HORSES AGAIN

Careless Bettors Were Fully in It at West Side Yesterday.

FAVORITES IN THE REAR

Surprises for the Horsemen and the Sports as Well-The Entries for Today.

BUTTE, Aug. 2.- This was another "short orse" day at the West Side track, and ose who are said by the talent to use no judgment in their betting went home with their pockets full of money. In the two running races the favorites all lost and the result of the 2:23 trot as far as it went was a surprise party to a good many people. Holmdel, who sold favorite all the way through, would very likely have won this race, however, had it not been the way through, would very likely have won this race, however, had it not been for the fact that he strained himself in the stifle joint of his left hind foot and had to be withdrawn. The strain had been troubling him for some time, but did not become so marked as to interfere with his going until to-day. In the first heat his driver held him in with the idea of saving him for the second heat, which he won easily. In the third heat Holmdel got the worst of the start and before the heat was over he commenced to go lame. He was brought out for the fourth heat, but after scoring once or twice his lameness increased to such an extent that he had to be drawn. The horse would have easily won the race had he been in condition and won hosts of admirers by the plucky way in which he stock to the race in spite of his injury.

The afternoon opened up had for good racing. A heavy dust storm came up at 2 o'clock and lasted over an hour. A little after three o'clock however, a rain storm came up and settled the dust in good shape and cooled off the air, after which everything was as it should be and the conditions could not have been more favorable. It was 3:50 o'clock when the horses were called up for the first race, the three-eighths gunning handicap, for a purse of everything was as it should be and the conditions could not have been more favorable. It was 3:50 o'clock when the Lorses were called up for the first race, the three-eighths running handicap, for a purse of $320. In this race H. D. Brown named the chestnut gelding Parole: Ed Williams named the chestnut gelding The Jew; F. M. Starkey named the chestnut gelding Cyclone: E. E. Randle named the grey gelding Grey Rooster; J. P Sutton named the bay mare Flora E.; 4. J. Dolan named the ehestnut mare Gypsy Girl; Henderson & Reed named the bay gelding Red Dick. The pool selling started out with Gypsy Girl first choice, Parole second, Grey Rooster third, The Jew fourth and the rest about even. Then it switched and Cyclone, Red Dick and Flora E. sold in the field with the field favorite at about $60. Gypsy Girl followed at $29, with Parole third at $10 to $12, and The Jew and Rooster about even at $8. After the horses role third at $10 to $12, and The Jew and Rooster about even at $8. After the horses had been called out the judges got wind of an alleged "job," and in order to head it off they took Bustillos off of Parole and put mp Prendergast, and substituted Myers for Madden on Gypsy Girl. The horses got away well in a bunch with the exception of Parole who got about two lengths the worst of it. Red Dick quickly took the lead and kept it, winning by two lengths, with Cyclone second. Flora E. held third place until within five lengths of the wire, when Gypsy Girl came up like a wbirlwind and poked her nose under the wire about two feet ahead of Flora E. Mutuals paid $9.55.

For the three-fourths of a mile hand? cap, Henderson & Reed named the bay stallion Diavolo, the Suisun stables named the gray gelding Braw Scot, Ryan Bros, named the chestnut colt Al Watts, William McClellan named the chestnut colt Mike Brown, H. D. Brown named the chestnut stallion Malcolm, Z. Craven named the chestnut stallion Malcolm, Z. Craven named the chestnut gelding Hello. The pools opened with Braw Scot selling choice at from $50 to $75, the field containing Mike Brown, Al Watts and Maicolm second at about $50, Hello third at taining Mike Brown, At Watts and Mai-colm second at about $50, Hello third at $25, and Diavolo fourth at $20. Later on the field changed to favorite at $120 to $50. Braw Scot second, Diavolo and Hello in the order named. Al Watts started in at his old tricks, and as soon as he was brought out started around the track at a breakpeck speed and ran about half a mile before the jocky could get control of of him. After that he got up against the fence and sulked and saw the other horses start off about a dozen times before he es-sayed to move. When he finally did start the other horses were 10 lengths away sayed to move. When he finally did start the other horses were 10 lengths away from him before he got in motion, but the starter let them go. Mike Brown took the lead at the start and kept it to within 20 yards of the wire, when Malcolm, who had been gaining rapidly, pushed ahead of him and won by a head with Mike Brown half a length ahead of Hello. The finish was one of the prettiest yet seen here. Mutuals paid $10.15.

ONE OF THE BRAVEST. Detective Cody Tells Blood-Curdling Tales

of His Friends. BUTTE. Aug. 2.—Butte seems to be a sort of haven of refuge for "detectives," judging from the many that are continually flocking here, but in spite of their ever increasing numbers no criminals of more importance than an ordinary petty thief is ever captured. On the contrary it appears that the more numerous these "detectives" become the easier it is for the dangerous criminals to escape. Even the liberal rewards offered by the city and county are not sufficient incentive to sharpen the wits of any of the many county are not sufficient incentive to sharpen the wits of any of the many Vilocqs who are continually prowling about the streets and looking mysterious. This evening the crowd was increased by the appearance of another sleuth who says he arrived from Chicago only two or three days ago. By way of introduction to several persons to whom he made himself known to-night, he threw back his coat lapel and displayed a star which showed him to be a deputy sheriff of Silver Bow county. He next said that his name was Cody, and incidentally also mentioned the fact that he was a cousin of W. F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill."

Having thus intrenched himself and established his standing, Mr. Cody proceeded to tell some of his most notable deeds as a detective. He had been connected with the Pinkertons, but they were no good and did not appreciate a first-class man, and he quit them. While performing his dangerous duties at various times he bad, so he said, been shot eight times, five of these wounds having all been in the left leg between the knee and ankle. Instead of causing him to become timid or more cautious, this promiscuous wounding, he said, had only resulted in making him absolutely fearless and he had forgotten the meaning of the word fear." Once, in Chicago, he had to arrest two negroes for stealing cattle. When he found them they attempted to stand him off by each drawing a revolver and sticking both weapons under his nose, but he did not hesitate, he knew his duty and was there to perform it. Instead of weakening, as most men would have done, he quickly stepped up to the two duty and was there to perform it. Iustead of weakening, as most men would have done, he quickly stepped up to the two desperadoes and took each one by an arm and walked them both off. As he laid, hold of the villains one of them remarked, "Why, he ain't afraid of nothing, is he," and with this they submitted. This was only a sample case of his undaunted bravery and nerve in time of great danger. The men to whom he introduced himself shock hands with each other after he was gone and congratulated themselves and the people of Butte that a man of such the people of Butte that a man of suct the people of Barte that a man of such non nerve as Detective Cody had shaken the dust of the oppressive East from his feet and migrated to the free and untrammeted West, and that above all he had concluded to make his bome in this city, where good men are always wanted and duly appreciated. duly appreciated.

time that be was placed in custody was for breaking into the Catholic church and after being kept in fail he was released on the ground of insufficient evidence. Soon the ground of insufficient evidence. Soon afterward he was again arrested for breaking into Mrs. Bray's lodging bonse, and again he was discharged for want of evidence. He then left the city and was next heard of at Philipsburg, where he was arrested for housebreaking, but his usual back favored him and he was discharged. From there he drifted to Dillon where he was arrested for lareeny. Yesterday he received his trial and again he was discharged. He was immediately rearrested on a warrant issued by Judge McMurphey of this city charging him with burglary in the second degree. It is thought that he is the party who some time early in June broke into Louis Matteson's house and stole a revolver, watch and some other articles. To-day be was brought up from Dillon and placed in jail.

"McCarthy's Mishaps." BUTTE, Aug. 2. Three nights of real good fun is promised, commencing Thursday evening next at Maguire's opera house, when the Ferguson & Mack comizations in the field of farce comedy, will present the laughing sensation, "McCarthy's Mishaps," a faree that has but one theme and that to make everybody happy by a vehicle of ludierous merriment in which the mishaps of two Irishmen, who are the central figures, provoke laughter, which is presistible, and depicting the wit and drollery so characteristic of the Celtie. Signs Go Up and Sand in the Sugar Butte for the Capital Talk - More . Buildings Needed.

BUTTE, Aug. 2.—For three or four days Butte has had weather that was an aston-ishment to the "oldest inhabitant," and ishment to the "oldest inhabitant," and be has been comparing notes with the other oldest inhabitant and came to the conclusion that the like has never been felt or seen within their recollection. In the first place it was warm and then hot and yesterday the thermometers along Main street climbed up to 105 and 110 at any places where the sun had the least chance of getting anyway near them. Today the thermometers took another upward shoot, but this afternoon they were stopped by a wind storm which almost took the nature of a cyclone. For about 15 minutes the dust was as thick as the smoke in the old sulphur days, and did great damage to stocks of goods in stores and played have with the fruit and candy stands. Awnings were blown down, a buggy was upset on Broadway and other slight damage done about the city.

More than 1,000 signatures are now on

Among the signers to-day were the Seth B. Smith Electric Supply company, Butte Consolidated Street Railway company, Butte Water company, E. E. Congdon & Co. John Cotter, H. M. Patterson, John O. Jones. Rev. Charles Cushingberry, T. Clomes Miles of Deer Lodge county and others. Half a dozen prominent citizens have offered to donate any number of acres for capitol building sites, and one, a well-known capitalist, said he would give a thousand acres if they were needed. A prominent banker told the committee to call on him for a subscription of $5,000 when money is needed. The committee reports that "Butte for the capital" enthusiasm is increasing daily. So far none but taxpayers have been asked to sign the pledge, and, although more than a thousand signatures have already been obtained, the town has not been more than half canvassed.

"The only enemy the capital scheme has, and the only one we have to contend with." said S. H. Clark, "is the little smelter smoke that still remains, but it will cut very little figure, for if it should ever become worse again and liable to interfere with the scheme, the people will very soon take it upon themselves to settle the nuisance for good and for all. There are some radicals who have made the assertion that a certain company which is opposed to Butte is purposely creating the smoke we have had in the past few days, but that is absurd. The company wouldn't dare do such a thing, for it wouldn't dare do such a thing, for it wouldn't be a safe thing for its officers."

"The smoke question must and should atonce be settled," said County Commissioner Caplice, "and it is the duty of the city officers to see that at least the court's injunction is obeyed to the letter. The people can not afford to be trifled with in the matter at all." "The only enemy the capital scheme

Nor have the many new residences any effect on the rent, for they are just as high as they ever were, and houses are in greater demand every day. The same is true of business houses.
